Reception and Gala hosted by the legendary Gina Lollobrigida at the Chiostrò di Sant'Agostino a 14th Century Church in the medieval town of Pietrasanta at the foothills of the Apuan Alps. The town is called the "Little Athens of Italy" and serves as a Mecca to artists going back to Michelangelo, who traveled to the area selecting his marble for The Pieta, David and other sculptures. The guest attire for the evening Gala will be “White with a Touch of Gold.”

Sunday, September 12

Full breakfast at Principe di Piemonte

Today we visit the ancient walled Tuscan city of Lucca. The highlight of our visit will be a luncheon hosted by the Mayor of Lucca at the famous Palazzo Pfanner. The Moriconi family, silk merchants and members of the nobility of the town of Lucca, began to build the Palazzo in 1660. It is known for its unique frescos and baroque garden. Our luncheon will include some of the traditional dishes of Lucca including their famous truffles, paired with great Tuscan wines. For those interested, we can explore the narrow cobblestone streets and make our way to some specialty shops, including those on the famous Via Fillungo.

Evening reception at Alpemare Beach Club in Forte dei Marmi – owned by Andrea and Veronica Bocelli. Following this sumptuous reception overlooking the Tyrrhenian Sea in the shadows of the Alps Apuane, you will experience a once in a lifetime event – a lavish dinner on Andrea Bocelli’s private beach, where he will serenade you with songs that have made him one of the most beloved singers in the world. Don’t be surprised if Andrea enters the beach on his favorite black stallion. Here is a link to the last private beach event with did with Andrea in 2019 <https://youtu.be/VNEOedKaYpE>
