

Emma Siani's Bio

Moved from the beautiful Amalfi Coast to Washington D.C. in 2008. Since then, she has worked in linguistic schools all over the Washington D.C. area.

While commuting she met several Italians traveling through the area who would have loved to have an Italian-speaking person to move around more easily in town, giving more of an insight into the place as only a local could do.

She has obtained all training and licenses for this profession.

She is a member of the Guild Guides of Washington D.C. certified in Italian and English.

Member of N.A.I Certified Interpretive Guide

Member of W.F.T.G.A (World Federation Tour Guides Association)